FROM CAPE SHORE.

Sch. Edna Wallace Hopper Arrived this Forenoon.

Sch. Edna Wallace Hopper, Capt. Almon D. Malloch, arrived from her late Cape Shore seining trip this forenoon with 40 barrels of salt mackerel.

Capt. Malloch reports that before the last five or six days, the fleet encountered bad weather. Great rafts of fish went by. Some were seen by the vessels and many were reported along the shore by coasters. The weather was so bad that practically no fishing could be done and he is of the opinion that most of the fish got by while the stormy weather prevailed, for since good weather came no fish have been seen. The fleet has done practically nothing.

The Crash in the Codfish Market.

The Boston Transcript thus factiously alludes to the codfish situation:

"News comes from Newfoundland of the crash in the codfish market. This stay and comfort of New England has dropped greatly in price and some of the poorer grades are almost unsalable, because better codfish can be had so cheaply. Whether this will make any difference to consumers here will be left to the ever-embattled dealers of Gloucester to say. Let the men who would corner the turkey market, however, on the eve of Thanksgiving take warning, for even though we are denied reciprocity with the land where they both fish and cut bait, Gloucester will probably permit us to avail ourselves of salt fish at reasonable prices, whether there is other than deep-water fowl or not."

Big Drop in Dried Fish.

A despatch from St. John's, N. F., yesterday says: As a result of the congested condition of the dried fish market in Europe and Brazil, the price of dried fish has dropped from 15 to 20 per cent. in the local market, and some grades of codfish are virtually unsalable. The situation results in serious loss to Newfoundland fishermen, and a general shrinkage in the value of this season's catch.

Halibut Sale.

The fare of sch. Anglo Saxon sold to the New England Fish Co. at 10 cents per pound for white and 8 cents for gray.

From the Cape Shore.

Steamer Alice M. Jacobs arrived from the Cape Shore this morning with 15 barrels of salt mackerel. Capt. Jacobs reports that the fleet has done nothing lately. He will now fit for a Newfoundland herring voyage.
